

IMMIGRANTS AND THE LABOUR MARKET

Each profile includes a description of the sector, notable sector employers in Burnaby, key occupations within the sector, current and forecasted labour market / employment data including employment prospects for immigrants, and related links and resources to assist job seekers and support the work of employment service providers.

Education

The education sector is one of British Columbia's largest, employing 7% of the provincial workforce.

Construction

The construction industry in Burnaby, Metro Vancouver and British Columbia has experienced two decades of impressive growth, with no end in sight.

Clean Technology

The world is seeing a profound shift toward green technologies and skills with British Columbia is home to fully one-third of Canada's cleantech companies.

Life Sciences

IB.C. is home to more than 50 life sciences research centres and several centres of excellence.

Information Technology and Digital Media

Information technology and digital media is the backbone and a key driver of growth in a knowledge-based economy.

Film and TV Production

Film and TV Production is a fast growing sector in British Columbia and Burnaby.

Scan me to view sector profiles in full

<https://www.bipt.ca/immigrants-and-the-labour-market-in-burnaby>

ABOUT US!

Since 2007, The Burnaby Intercultural Planning Table (BIPT) has been collaborating with immigrant and refugee service providers to create dialogue to identify the needs of newcomers and share resources that will enhance their integration and settlement in our community. BIPT's mission is to work collaboratively to facilitate the integration of immigrants and refugees.

Learn more about BIPT!

Research and development of the profiles was conducted with funding from Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada.

Immigrants and the Housing Market

For many immigrants, finding an appropriate and affordable place to live is the biggest challenge of life in Canada. That's especially true in Burnaby, which is subject to Metro Vancouver's housing and affordability crisis. Learn more here:

604-659-2200

www.bipt.ca

info@burnabyfamilylife.org